Vol. IV, Number 3: Spring 1977

President speaks out on Community Education

Viewpoint: Panacea or prescription?
Robert J. Shoop

Community education and the urban crisis
Stephen L. Stark and Philip T. West

Community process: community education’s promise
William M. Hetrick

Community education as a multi-system operation
George S. Wood, Jr.

Community education: a life-long learning process
Donald S. Udell

Utilization of community advisory councils
Wayne Robbins

A case for the deaf community
Roland G. Frank

Closing the gap between the K-12 curriculum and the community
Anthony J. DeLellis

The community education level development process: a taxonomy
William F. O’Neil

Community education and the older adult
Sidney Lynn Miller and Gladys D. Falconer

Educational programs for rural communities
Joseph K. Rippetoe and Cecil James Killacky

Interfacing citizen participation with planning and decision-making processes
Brian P. Miller and Roger Farrar

The community school director—a changing role
Pat Edwards and Stuart Parsell

Review:
Simple justice
Martha M. McCarthy